Behind the Haemonetics' Software Solutions Team are professionals who understand healthcare information systems. You may hear them referred to as "Team 360".

Every Team 360 member is empowered and entrusted to deliver our service brand. Each of us takes responsibility for exemplifying, supporting and advancing the principles of the Haemonetics service brand, quality policy and Global Focus.

Successfully installing software and integrating systems that meets your needs is a process that requires care and attention to detail during every step.

As your organization moves from the sales process through the implementation process to post go-live customer support, we are here to listen, and we value what you have to say. From our perspective, we are more than your vendor; we are your partner, here to support you in the delivery of quality healthcare.
